Dear Sponsors and Supporters,

July 2010

What a great month! We have much good news to report: All three containers have made it to the Village! Between your faithful support for your children, the extra dollars you send and a few unexpected larger donations, the security fence for the secondary school is fully funded! And, the crops are continuing to grow. Looks like they'll get a harvest this year. That answers each prayer request we put in the June newsletter! Hallelujah! God is so good! We appreciate all you do. You have come along side to help those whom most of you will never get to meet face to face in this life. We shed happy tears because we are so encouraged by your commitment to the children you sponsor. One of our sponsors writes, "The Lord blessed (us) with extra money so we are passing the blessing along." Just five weeks prior their financial situation looked dreary. Then another long time sponsor called to say a blessing was received from an inheritance and they wanted to share with us. Together we are making an impact on the lives of the families in Sakila. Ayubu is one of two children sponsored by Vic and Cindy. Last year they sent him a soccer ball and some school supplies. Martha (mother of the whole school) is the lady in the photo. You can read her story in the Feb. 2008 online newsletter.

Ayubu Aseri is an eleven-year-old fifth grade student at the Primary School. He is a very good student. He lives with his mom in Kikatiti, about four miles from the school. His dad left them when he was younger, but his mom has done a great job raising him. They often struggle to find enough food, but even when he doesn't get any breakfast, Ayubu is never late to school. He is a favorite among the teachers for his work ethic and a great attitude. He is very thankful for the sponsors that make it possible for him to get this free education and he says "...God bless you very much and I pray for you everyday." ~Rogath

Walking four miles with no breakfast! That's a reality for too many of these children. Not uncommonly, the food they get at school is their first meal of the day. Here's more good news. The third and fourth grade classes of St. John Evangelical Lutheran School in Wisconsin had a walk-a-thon and raised money for 1008 bowls for the children. When we were there in October 2009 some children had to wait for others to finish eating and wash their bowl before the next child could eat. Thanks to the Huffman family and some very dedicated teachers for making this happen. Loads of thanks to all of you for your commitment. God bless you all so much!
